FYI – here is a SEPA document from the City of Yakima regarding proposed installation of a sewer line pipeline crossing of Shaw Creek ditch on the Bainter Property. Comments to the City are due on Dec 23.

I did finally get out on to the Bainter site yesterday. (I also had a pretty good view over the fence of the north side of Shaw Creek on the adjacent Radke property as well.) I saw a minor amount of surface disturbance in the adjacent wetland buffer – not enough to cause water quality problems. I did not see any new wetland filling activities. I took measurements of the wider part of the wetland that is within the creek channel which I will compare with the delineation report I have on file to make sure that there hasn't been any "buffer creep" into the wetland area. There were new willow whip plantings within 15- 20 feet of the creek throughout the site (planting activities probably caused the buffer disturbance noted above). I hope to finish up a report with some pictures next Monday or Tuesday. If I don't get it done then, it will have to wait until Jan 5 or so because of some holiday leave I will be taking.

Happy Holidays!
